Art Unit: 1623

The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: the status of the parent application Serial No. 10/163,520 has not been updated on page 1 of the specification.

Appropriate correction is required.

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1-53 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-53 of U.S. Patent No. 6,627,614. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the claimed methods are encompassed by the patented methods.

Claims 1-23 and 27-50 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, because the specification, while being enabling for a method of treating cancer, does not reasonably provide enablement for a method of treating a disease associated with undesirable or uncontrolled cell proliferation. The specification does not enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to use the invention commensurate in scope with these claims. The terminology "a disease associated with undesirable or uncontrolled cell proliferation" encompasses malignant and non-malignant tumors. Since anthracyclines and camptothecin are known anti-cancer agents but are not known for the treatment of non-malignant tumors, there is a good reason to doubt that the claimed methods are effective in the treatment of non-malignant tumors. Further, the specification fails to provide any teaching or suggestion for the treatment of which diseases, besides cancer, the claimed methods are useful.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-53 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Curran et al (U.S. Patent No. 6,034,243).

Curran et al disclose that camptothecin is a useful anticancer agents and acts as a topoisomerase I poison while anthracycline is a useful anticancer agent and acts as a topoisomerase II poison (column 2, lines 25-53). A person having ordinary skill in the art at the time the instant invention was made would have been motivated to use sequentially anthracycline and camptothecin for the treatment of cancer because such a person would have expected the two agents to produce an anticancer effect. Therefore, the claimed methods are deemed prima facie obvious over Curran et al.
